

ASTM International Technical Committee C11 on Gypsum and Related Building Materials and Systems

Scope

The formulation of definitions, specifications, and test methods relating to gypsum and gypsum products and the use thereof.

In addition, the scope of this Committee shall cover the formulation of definitions, specifications, test methods, and application standards for those construction materials, particularly for ceilings and walls, and related components and accessories not currently covered by existing ASTM Committees. The Committee will coordinate its activities with and maintain liaison with other ASTM Committees and organizations in matters of mutual interest.

In addition, the scope of this Committee shall cover the formulation of definitions, specifications, and test methods for related products not covered by other Committees, if approved by ASTM.
